

Rob Pennington, PhD

Psychologist Dr. Rob Pennington is an award winning speaker, trainer and author. A graduate of the University of Texas at Austin with a BA in computer science and a PhD in psychology Rob has been self-employed earning a six figure income every year since 1982. Rob has also received the highest trainer evaluations from ExxonMobil every year for 32 years.

He is four time recipient of Mental Health America's Outstanding Speaker Award, one of Meeting Professional International's original Platinum Presenters and co-creator with Jack Canfield and Steve Harrison of the Speaking For Money Coaching Program. He is currently President of the Houston Chapter of the National Speaker's Association and spends his professional time providing leadership and team development for executives and their direct reports.